Two-year Class Schedule

CSUSB-Palm Desert Campus

Located in the heart of the Coachella Valley, the Palm Desert Campus (PDC) offers all the benefits of a California State University in a small, personalized, setting.

At PDC the Management Department caters to the needs of upper division business students by providing flexible class schedules, nontraditional course offerings, and “real-world” applicable course curriculum. Classroom environments offer new, state of the art facilities. Scholarships and financial aid are available to students who meet the specific guidelines and/or requirements.

The Bachelor of Arts in Business Administration with a general management concentration offers the student a broad-based business education. Courses cover a wide-range of topics, including accounting, finance, marketing plus sixteen units in various management specialty courses.

Our program accommodates full-time, part-time, traditional, nontraditional, and/or reentry students. Many of our courses and extracurricular activities provide students the opportunity to learn through community-based business partnerships. These partnerships offer students a “real-world, hands-on” approach to business education, and students gain work experience that enhances their marketable attributes.

All business faculty members are available to serve and assist students in course selection and overall guidance. The department takes pride in providing students with faculty members that are experts in their fields. Faculty members also bring years of professional business experience into our classrooms.

All students (prospective, current, or returning) are encouraged to contact the Management Department Coordinator at Palm Desert—anytime—to find out more about our programs or schedule an advising appointment.

Program Information

CSU. San Bernardino's Palm Desert Campus offers upper-division coursework for a Business Administration (BA) Degree in Management. Lower division coursework for this major must be completed at a community college or university before transfer.

Students must complete the California State University General Education Certification course pattern or the Intersegmental General Education Transfer Curriculum (IGETC) for UC and CSU to fulfill lower-division general education requirements.

The area's local community college, College of the Desert (COD), provides a course pattern that encompasses California State University General Education Certification.

Up to 70 units of transferable community college work may be applied to the degree. There are four additional upper-division general education courses required of all students regardless of major. These courses are to be taken at the university. They are not available at the community college.

NOTE: Students with coursework completed outside of the state of California or at other four-year institutions should make an appointment to see a transfer advisor to determine lower division course equivalencies.

Admission & Registration

Admission standards and procedures are the same whether a student intends to enroll at Palm Desert or the San Bernardino Campus. Students should submit an application of transcripts of all previous college course work.

Transcripts should be submitted as early as possible prior to the time a student wishes to enroll. Applications can be obtained by calling or coming to the PDC office, and pre-admission counseling is available.

Students may register for classes at the campus by phone using the campus Telephone Registration Access System (TRACS) or during late registration, which occurs just prior to the beginning of each academic term. Since classes fill up quickly, students are advised to use TRACS.

For specific inquiries call PDC at (760) 341-2883. Additional information about registration is available at the PDC office.

PDC is a great place to be!

Student Programs

Students may take advantage of all San Bernardino campus programs and services as well as those offered at the Palm Desert Campus. Programs and services available at PDC include the following:

- ◇ Financial Aid Assistance
- ◇ Pre-admission counseling
- ◇ Academic advising
- ◇ Computer facilities
- ◇ Guest lectures and speakers
- ◇ Student programs and clubs
- ◇ Community partnerships

PDC students are encouraged to participate in all academic and social groups of interest to them whether based at Palm Desert or the San Bernardino campus. A key component in PDC government is the Student Advisory Board, which represents the student body to the Dean and develops programs and services such as English and psychology clubs, and an accounting association.

Open University: Area residents who wish to attend classes at PDC without pursuing a degree may enroll on a space-available basis.

Over-Sixty Program: Fees are waived for California residents over the age of sixty who are eligible for admission. Registration is on a space available basis and requires a small administrative charge.

All faculty serve to assist students in course selection and overall guidance. Course selection is a student decision based on the difficulty of the course(s), hours scheduled, prerequisite(s) required, time constraints, etc. To serve students' academic needs, all faculty have scheduled office hours each quarter for student advising. No appointments are necessary.

Work Experience

Management 575

The Management Department and the Inland Empire Center for Entrepreneurship Office oversee the activities of this course. MGMT 575 offers 4 Units of elective credit (CR or NC) in the management concentration for working 150-200 hours per quarter in an intern position with a participating private or public sector employer. Internship positions can be with business firms, government agencies, and non-profit organizations. Some internships pay, while others do not. The internship experience is designed to help bridge the gap between academic studies and their practical applications in the “real-world” of employment.

The internship program is of mutual benefit to students, employers, and the University. The student acquires valuable experience in an environment that emphasizes professional obligations, career opportunities, and the application of classroom knowledge. The employer benefits from obtaining the services of motivated academic interns. The University benefits from the creation of strong linkages with the business and public sectors.

If special project arrangements are made with the department advisor in advance, and with a few special provisions, internships can be completed at the student’s current work site. To qualify, a student must perform different duties than their regular job and must be supervised by someone other than their regular supervisor.

Internships require advanced permission from the instructor for enrollment. Management 575 is offered once per year at the Palm Desert Campus.

Management 515

The Management Department and the Inland Empire Center for Entrepreneurship Office oversee the activities of this course. The Small Business Consulting (SBC) team project experience for students is designed to bridge the gap between academic studies and practical applications in the “real-world” of employment.

The SBC project is of mutual benefit to the students, employers, and the University. It is valuable to the students as the project provides realistic exposure to small business operations, providing an opportunity to apply classroom-obtained skills in a non-classroom environment. The SBC experience aids sponsoring businesses by keeping them informed of new developments, concepts, and methods in their fields, as well as providing them students who assist as a motivated consulting team. The University is benefited by the addition of “real-world” components to its curriculum. The university also benefits from the enhancement of its reputation in the business sectors within the geographic areas it serves. This course earns a letter grade.

If special project arrangements are made with the department advisor in advance, in some cases, consulting projects can be completed at the student’s current work site. Small Business Consulting requires advanced permission from the instructor for enrollment.

Special Interest

Management 595D

The Management Department and your campus advisor oversee the activities for this course. Course credit can be obtained for field research projects aligned with management topics of special student interest. Independent study can also include study related to course texts, assignments, and a final project.

An independent study project benefits the student by allowing them to expand their management knowledge in a specialized area. A total of 10 units of concentration credit can be applied toward graduation for independent study courses. This course receives a letter grade and is worth 4 units per course.

A written project proposal for MGMT 595D must be submitted to the department and faculty advisor along with a course contract. Project consent must be obtained from the instructor and department. The course requires the student to have a 3.0 or better GPA.

Independent Study requires advanced permission from the instructor and department for enrollment.

Management 595D is offered once per year at the Palm Desert Campus.

PDC Management Courses

Enrollment in upper division courses is restricted to students who have met all prerequisites and have completed at least 89.9-quarter units (junior class level). Students who do not meet these requirements will be disenrolled. Please check the department two year-schedule for a list of all
